

What did the TW earthquake do to DNS?

No, really...

- Froot operators asked for evidence
 - We do have a node in TPE and the only thing we saw was "nothing" I have attached a graph that covers the period (the last 12 months). Nothing at all happened during the days right after the earthquake, which I guess means the node was doing the job it is meant to do.

Really, really...

- Iroot operators asked for evidence
 - the short story is: I cannot find a thing. There are no irregularities in the traffic patterns that I can interpret as having anything to do with this.
- Begs the question:
 - Did nothing really happen?

What really happened?

Are there any sensible things we should do?
